Within the framework of the World Art Day celebration we are in the process of preparing for next near an exhibition in a unique setting at the castle of Waroux ( near Liege). Numerous rooms of the castle will be at our disposal. It is about an exceptional exhibition of works of the artists selected among the most representative members of our association This will allow us to illustrate the wealth and the variety of the works exposed by us, but also to present the esthetic movements such as the representational artist, the abstraction and the various current artistic trends. Guided tours will be organised for schools.
  The opening will take place on Saturday 15 April 2017 at 15h00 in the presence of numerous personalities of the political and artistic world and in the presence of several participating artists.
  There will be several conferences during this period by our international art critic Lucien Rama on contemporary art.

Concerning the free entry to museums with IAA Card:
Despite all the agreements obtained by the city’s political officials and the ministers of culture since almost 60 years, we still depend on the goodwill of the curators of museums concerning the free entry with IAA card. This is also true with the ICOM card. (International Council of Museum)

Conclusion: The rehabilitation of our IAA card has to go back to the persons in charge of Culture at UNESCO in order to have the obtained agreements respected.
